July 29, 2021

Award recognizes entrepreneurs who have driven their companies' success, transformed their industry, and made a positive impact on their community

PLYMOUTH MEETING, Pa., July 29, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Harmony Biosciences Holdings, Inc. ("Harmony") (Nasdaq: HRMY), a pharmaceutical company dedicated to developing and commercializing innovative therapies for patients living with rare neurological disorders who have unmet medical needs, today announced that John C. Jacobs, President and CEO, has been named an EY Entrepreneur Of The Year® 2021 Greater Philadelphia Award Winner.

Jacobs was selected by a panel of independent judges for his work leading Harmony and joins an esteemed multi-industry community of other entrepreneurs who have driven their companies' success, transformed their industries, and made a positive impact on their employees and communities.

"I am extremely honored to be selected for this prestigious award and accept it on behalf of the entire Harmony team, who demonstrate their commitment and passion every day through their support of the rare disease community," said John C. Jacobs, President and CEO. "I'm also inspired by the opportunity we have as a company to help patients in need who are living with rare neurological disorders. As Harmony continues to grow and evolve into a leading rare disease company, it is our vision of being able to help an even broader population of patients that drives us forward."

For 35 years, the EY Entrepreneur Of The Year Award® program has been one of the preeminent competitive awards for entrepreneurs and leaders of high-growth companies. The award recognizes entrepreneurial leaders who are excelling in overcoming adversity, driving financial performance, and committed to building innovative and values-based companies with wider social impact.

As a Greater Philadelphia award winner, Jacobs is now eligible for consideration for the Entrepreneur Of The Year® 2021 National Awards.
